FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral of the late Henrietta Nevers will take place at the Episcopal Church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend.

Unshaken in His View.

WASHINGTON, January 11.—The most strenuous efforts are being made by the Republicans in the Senate to bend Senator Stewart of Nevada to their will and force him to vote against Lamar for Justice of the Supreme Court. Their argument now is that the nominee of the President is not a sound lawyer.

Stewart disagrees with his political brethren, and is looking up the records of the greatest Justices who have ever sat on the Bench. He finds that Lamar compares favorably with John Marshall and other famous judicial minds, and still expresses himself as being strongly for Lamar.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

ALL MONTHS.

—The cold wave is still here.
—Lung Protectors at Thaxter's Drug Store.
—For cold feet, get a Hot Water Bag at Thaxter's.
—Mayo Greenlaw's wife, of Reno, has presented her husband with a girl.
—Hem-stitched Silk Handkerchief's, twenty-five cents a piece, at Olcovich Bros.
—There is every probability that the Indian School will be commenced in the Spring.
—Miss Mary Roberts won the bean-guessing prize for ladies, and Will U. Mackey for gentlemen. Some guessers were over 2,000 off.
—W. W. Rodgers, of Elko, who is in this city, got a dispatch from home yesterday, that it was 51 below zero, and water in the wells freezing.
—It is said that a young girl at the Poor Farm, has been delivered of a child, the father being a married man of this city. The Grand Jury should take this matter up.

—Ayer's Hair Vigor improves the beauty of the hair and promotes its growth. It prevents the accumulation of dandruff, cleanses the scalp, and restores a natural color to grey hair. Have you received Ayer's Almanac for the new year?

—When the eyes become weak or the lids inflamed and sore, a disordered system or a scrofulous condition of the blood is indicated, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy. It invigorates and vitalizes the blood and expels all humors.

—Comrades of Custer Post No. 5 will assemble at their headquarters today at 1:30 p. m., sharp, for escort duty at the funeral of Miss Henrietta Nevers. (Uniform hats only) By order of Post Commander:

G. C. THAXTER, Adjutant.

—It is said that Paroni, who was tarred and feathered, (papered for the want of feathers,) at Eureka last week, will prosecute all who were engaged in the outrage, and a great sensation is promised when their names are made public. Further developments are awaited with interest.

Arizona vs. Nevada Beef.

Arizona stockmen are disposing of their surplus beef cattle to California buyers for four cents, and offer to supply them in train-load lots for that figure. Here in Nevada the price of cattle is steadily advancing, and the buyers are taking all they can get for 6½ cents up. The difference in the price is explained in the fact that Arizona cattle are noted for the mahogany consistency of their flesh while the sagebrush cattle are equally noted for the flavor and firmness of theirs. The people of the West want the best in the market, hence the never-failing demand for our cattle.

By order of the President.

NEVADA EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

A Very Successful Meeting of the Teachers.

The first meeting of the Nevada Educational Association was a success in point of numbers in spite of the unusually cold weather.

The Association was favored with some excellent singing by the Carson Choral society.

Prof. Howe gave the Association a hearty welcome to the Capital City.

President Dovey thanked Prof. Howe for his warm welcome and went on to state briefly the objects of the Association.

Its purposes are to encourage teachers to study up their work professionally and lead them out of the old routine methods of teaching and thereby raise the standard of the Nevada schools.

Prof. Walter M. Miller, of the State University, then showed the method of teaching physics with improvised apparatus. He illustrated more fully the method of finding the relative density or specific gravity of bodies by the flexure of a common lath.

Owing to the delayed train the morning programme could not be carried out.

Miss Annie Martin read a very instructive essay on Primary work. This was followed by a rambling discussion on school work.

Hon. Leroy D. Brown, President of the Department of Primary Instruction of the National Association, invited the teachers of Nevada to send exhibits of work in writing composition, and school work generally to San Francisco next July. Any further particulars will be furnished by Prof. Brown.

The following educators were present:

Hon. W. C. Dovey, President of the Association; Prof. Brown and Prof. Miller, of the State University; Principals Orvis Ring, of Reno; S. Summerfield, of Empire; H. H. Howe, of Carson; R. Lewers, of Dayton, and J. L. Smith, of Genoa. Miss H. R. Guthrie, of Bishop Whittaker's School for Girls; Misses S. A. Harris, Ada Lackey, Frank Grippen and Emily E. Cutting, of Reno; Miss Nora Quinlan, of Virginia; Miss Anna Sullivan, of Gold Hill; Miss Nellie Musgrove, of Eureka; Misses Kate Bardenwerper, Annie Martin, Ella Starling, Lillie Schneider, Vallie French, Mary E. Davies, Bertha Wagner, Edith White, Clara Wasson, Libbie Wasson, Viola Stewart, Clara Carney and Lillie Swift, of Carson.

Among those who take a great interest in educational matters, the following were present: Mrs. D. A. Bender, Mrs. C. N. Noteware, Mrs. Gov. Stevenson, Mrs. C. C. Atherton, Mrs. H. H. Howe, Mrs. French, Mrs. G. T. Davis, Mrs. J. G. Fox and others.

Austin All Right.

The APPEAL, in common with many other State papers, was in error when it announced that Austin was played out and going to the dogs. The mistake originated with the report that the daily Reveille had changed to a weekly, and this was taken as an index of the fact that the town had gone under.

It now turns out that the Reveille is still a daily, and proposes to keep so. The Manhattan Mine has been purchased by a New York syndicate, and the five months' back wages due the miners have all been paid up. The new company proposes to rush things in Austin, and the old town is once more on its feet, turning out lots of bullion, and paying 100 cents on the dollar, as before.

The APPEAL takes pleasure in once more touching its hat to Austin and the daily Reveille.

The Hardest of Combinations.

The delicacy of flavor with the efficacy of action has been attained in the famous California liquid of Figs. Its pleasant taste and beneficial effects have rendered it immensely popular. It cleanses the System, cures Costiveness, etc. For sale by George C. Thaxter, agent.

—Full morning service at the Episcopal Church at 11 A. M. Sunday School at 12:30 P. M., and Prison service at 1 P. M. Rev. G. B. Davis, Rector.

MINING CAMP BLACKMAILING.

A Most Despicable Class of Scoundrels.

For more than a year past, complaints have made their appearance in the Wood River and Cœur d'Alene papers concerning a class of vampires who infest those camps and require to be blackmailed whenever a sale of mining property is on the tapis. Their manner of proceeding is to slander the title or decry the value of such property unless assured by a stipulated reward in case the sale is effected. The purchasers of mining property are very cautious of late years, and it takes but a hint at times to break a sale. Thus the men often prove of great injury to a camp, keeping those out who have means and would develop the country and give employment to the laboring class. They often accomplish as much or more injury than the professional thief, burglar or highwayman and we cannot imagine why they should be treated with more consideration. Sometimes the fellows profess to possess great geological knowledge and they talk learnedly of rocks and the periods and the why and wherefore of the formation as if they had been invested with divine inspiration; at other times they may be observed in the guise of pettifoggers or real estate agents and claim to understand the title to all the claims in the country and the law appertaining thereto. They invariably wear good clothing and make such assumptions of knowledge and dignity that they inspire a certain amount of awe in the breast of the unsophisticated, when in point of fact, they are blackmailers pure and simple. They do not evince the courage that characterizes the ordinary burglar or road agent, though their notorious calling is fully as iniquitous, and, if any difference exists, it is lower in moral turpitude. It does seem as if mining communities could rid themselves of such characters without the aid of lynch law. The minds of the people in such camps should be sufficiently fruitful in expedients to effect such a desirable consummation. There should be a statute aimed directly at this class of blackmailing scoundrels we have who mentioned are such a curse to mining camps. When they are found guilty under such a law a long term of imprisonment should await them. It may be a question to distinguish between one who is giving advice in an honest manner to prevent a swindle being consummated and one who acts from unworthy motives, but that can always be determined by a traverse jury and others whose duty it may be to execute the laws.

The Eureka Outrage.

The Sentinel gives a two-column description of the cowardly outrage on the poor Italian whom twelve masked men took from his home recently and tarred and feathered. It also denounces the outrage in most unmeasured terms, as the most brutal, cowardly and murderous ever attempted in the State.

This mob of ruffians took him from his own home, bound and gagged the man. Then stripping him to the waist they poured hot tar over his body, and then rolled him in paper instead of feathers. They also proposed to set fire to the tar and paper, but the man begged so piteously to be shot instead that they finally tied his hands behind him, and after unbuttoning his pants so that they fell round his ankles, acting as a hobble, they turned him loose in a blinding snowstorm, and one of the wildest nights, says the Sentinel, that has been known in Western Nevada since 1872. He finally freed his hands and wandered to a cabin twelve miles from Eureka, where he was cared for. He was given up for dead, but after a day's rest he came to Eureka on the train and gave Cheeney & Wren a full list of the names of the cowardly ruffians who perpetrated the outrage. These parties will all be legally dealt with. When men engage in a proceeding so vile that they are obliged to wear masks to hide their identity, that fact in itself is sufficient evidence of what they think of themselves.
